IN THE CLASSROOM

Hello Yellow Room Families! We have some really great activities planned for May!

During the first week, we will be focusing on Mother's Day! The kids will be making paper plate moms using plates and construction paper for art! They will be using water color to reveal a magic word and then try to sound it out for literacy and for math they will be matching a cookie card to its corresponding number jar by counting the chocolate chips!

For the second week, we'll be focusing on bugs and insects! The kids will be tracing letters in sand using a fuzzy toy worm for literacy and making playdoh bug fossils by pressing bugs into playdoh for science. They will also be using Q-tips to decorate a dragonfly with dots!

The third week we will be focusing on gardening! The kids will be finding flower petals with the letters in their name on them to make a flower for literacy! They will also be identifying which insects live in a garden for science and for art they will be making a snail out of construction paper, pom poms and glitter!

For the fourth week, we will focus on grocery stores and farmer's markets! The kids will be stacking cereal boxes using a guide to make different shapes for science. They will also be shopping for letters by picking a letter and finding groceries that start with the letter they picked for literacy and for art they will be decorating a market stand made out of popsicle sticks.

During the fifth week, we will be learning about Caterpillars! The kids will do caterpillar egg counting where they count pom poms for each number leaf for math! They will also be using pom poms, googly eyes and construction paper to make a caterpillar on a leaf for art.
