June 2023

IN THE CLASSROOM

Hello Yellow room families! This month's theme is When I Grow Up. On the first week of June we will focus on Father's Day/camping/fishing! We will work on our Father's Day gifts and make camping crafts!

On the second week of June we will focus on Occupations/Community helpers. For art we will use paint and construction paper to make firemen handprints. For literacy we will do letter mail matching, where the children will match the mail to the corresponding letter. For math the children will use a guide to count how many legos they need to build a tower.

On the third week of June we will focus on Transportation. For art the children will glue tissue paper, windows and wheels on half a paper plate to make a car. For literacy the children will match trains with an uppercase letter on it to cabooses with the matching lowercase letter. For math the children will lace string through lacing cards shaped like different forms of transportation.

On the fourth week of June we will focus on construction. For art the children will use cut out shapes of construction paper, and glue to create a city. For math the children will identify the shape of each road and then they will use a car to drive around the shape. For literacy the children will use cones to build their names on a sheet.
